Carol,

Per our discussion on the amount of recycled board used to make your corrugated boxes, the percentage varies but typically in excess of 50% recycled. Smurfit-Stone Container Corporation has a division set up for nothing but recycling old corrugated containers. Smurfit-Stone Container Corporation is the largest recycler of corrugated containers.

At Smurfit-Stone recycling programs are an integral part of our company’s philosophy and commitment to be “The Packaging Solutions Company”. In addition to being the world’s largest packaging company, Smurfit-Stone also operates the world’s largest paper reclamation business.

Our reclamation business handles about 6.8 million tons of recovered paper annually through our 23 reclamation facilities, 12 domestic sales offices and an office in Shanghai, China. Smurfit-Stone is the leading U.S. exporter of recycled paper, shipping to more than 30 countries. While recovered paper collection makes up a majority of sales, we also manage aluminum cans and plastics. Smurfit-Stone’s 23 recycling plants, strategically located around the U.S., serves as one-stop recycling resources for communities, waste haulers, major retailers, and manufacturers

Sincerely,

Kevin Kail
